PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By David Stuart

The first four months of 2011 has brought us more snow, thunderstorms, and tornadoes than usual. This adverse weather has negatively impacted sales for many businesses.

Snow removal crews in Creve Coeur and Olivette have kept our roads clear and fortunately we have not experienced a direct hit from a tornado this year. Although the weather has been difficult, the greatest challenge (so far) to our economy is rising gasoline prices. We all will need to find more ways to conserve the use of fuel. The bright spot in challenges such as these are the solutions which arise, which include more fuel efficient technologies and less dependence on foreign sources of energy.

We look forward to May with slightly warmer temperatures and a little less rain. This is a month to celebrate graduations, weddings, and Creve Coeur Days. Congratulations to the newly elected council members in the municipalities of Creve Coeur and Olivette. I urge all our members to get to know the representatives in their areas.

Erica Orrison, owner of the St. Louis County PrideStaff office hopes to become an important resource for employers and job seekers as the St. Louis job market continues to rebound. "With the combination of downsizing and hiring/ pay freezes over the last few years, and the "wait and see" approach to recovery, companies could find themselves unprepared to maintain quality work and productivity in this changing market," Orrison says.

Orrison's 15 years of experience in sales and business development have made her well prepared to help meet her clients' diverse needs. "Our approach is customer-centric. Building relationships is all about bringing value to the client as well as to the candidate. Working with a unique group of clients helps keep our services fresh and creative, while still delivering the individual experience our customers expect and deserve," she says. Being a part of a national firm gives her an edge. "PrideStaff has been a consistent industry leader, developing technology and service processes that allow it to deliver superior performance." Professional staffing allows businesses to grow with less risk. "If businesses count on a company like PrideStaff to provide flexible staffing options, then they can focus on what they do best. I have assembled a strong, knowledgeable team ready to be a resource to our community."

PrideStaff's St. Louis County office is located at 12305 Olive Boulevard in Creve Coeur. For more information about PrideStaff, please call 314-485-2110.

Brandt & Sons Ace Hardware held a ribbon cutting on April 12th to showcase its new outdoor patio area. Owner, Jeff Brandt, proudly led chamber guests through the 1,300 sq foot Garden/Patio Center showing off the new outdoor merchandise now carried by Ace Hardware. The store also carries a larger selection of flowers and vegetables as well as unique garden accessories and patio furniture. Be sure to stop by and see the finished renovation! The store is located at 12634 Dorsett Road in Maryland Heights.

POTENTIALS RESALE & CONSIGNMENT BOUTIQUE RIBBON CUTTING

Youth In Need continues to build on its community support by launching its first social enterprise called Potentials in the Westgate Shopping Centre, 12392 Olive Boulevard in Creve Coeur.

Potentials, a resale and consignment boutique, offers ladies, mens and teens gently used apparel with designer and department-store labels, fashion accessories, home furnishings and décor.

The revenues generated from the sale of goods will directly benefit Youth in Need, a United Way agency and non-profit organization, which serves more than 11,500 children, teens and families in crisis throughout East-Central Missouri, including the City of St. Louis and St. Louis, St. Charles, Warren, Lincoln, and Montgomery Counties.

"Believing in the power of potential, Youth In Need's mission is to provide nurturing environments and educational opportunities, so children, teens, and families can find safety and hope, achieve their goals, and build a positive future," said Jim Braun, president and CEO of Youth in Need. "The demand for Youth in Need's services continues to increase in this difficult economy, so we're counting on the creation of Potentials to help us generate the additional funds needed to help us continue our mission to serve youths and families across the region who are facing overwhelming problems."

Potentials will be managed by Lisa Maurer, Director of Social Enterprise for Youth in Need. "With resale and vintage shops increasing in popularity, we think Potentials is a natural fit," she said. "We invite the entire community to help us make Potentials a great success for Youth in Need."

Donations and consignment items are now being accepted and can be dropped off at the new store. Potentials is also recruiting volunteers to assist at the boutique. Volunteer applications can be found at www.potentialsresale.org or contact Youth In Need's headquarters at 636-946-5600.

William Woods University is a student-centered, professions-oriented university dedicated to helping students achieve quality in all aspects of life, through the highly respected, innovative and unique programs it offers. The WWU Graduate and Professional Studies Program offers associates, bachelors, and masters degrees in various fields. This program is designed for working professionals seeking to further their education. Most of the accelerated programs allow students to complete a degree in less than two years—without giving up family time or putting a career on-hold. Most classes meet once a week for four hours in the evening and courses range from six to eight weeks in length.

APRIL MEMBERSHIP MEETING FASHION SHOW

Potentials Resale & Consignment Boutique provided the clothes for a fashion show at the April membership meeting. Our models included Carrie Carrigan (Great Southern Bank), Nicci Lowrey (McAlister's Deli), Robin Rickerman (JCC), Bob Gassner (Visiting Nurse Association) and Rusty Weber, Genny Murphy and Bre Vittitow (all from O'Connor Insurance).

Our thanks to Charter Business for sponsoring the meeting. Thanks also to all the people who brought food for the Curves food drive. Debbie Weinstein from Curves reported half a barrel of food was donated which represents 50-60 pounds. She reported the food will be donated to Operation Food Search.

Chamber Marketing Opportunities

Be sure to take advantage of some of the various marketing opportunities offered by the Chamber!

Membership Meeting Packets

For $10 we will include your flyer in the packets given to everyone at our monthly membership meetings. Just be sure to get 80 copies of your flyer to the chamber office no later than 11 a.m. on the Wednesday prior to the meeting. Our meetings are always on the 3rd Thursday of the month.

Membership Meeting Sponsors

For $150 you may sponsor one of our membership luncheons. We will place your logo on our invitations, and you will have the exclusive right to place your own promotional materials at the tables. You will also be given five minutes at the podium during our meeting to promote your business to a captive audience.

Community Calendar

Our Chamber has created a new page on our website, titled Community Calendar, on the left side of the website. The calendar entries are listed by dates. If your organization would like to submit a calendar item, please send it to info@cco chamber.com. There is no charge for this service, and we encourage members to view the section to see what activities members have taking place. (Check out the two entries submitted by JCC and Bank of America Home Loans.)

American Eagle Credit Union held a ribbon cutting ceremony at its new Creve Coeur branch located at 12395 Olive Blvd. on April 26. Mayor Harold Dielman was on hand to help with the ceremony and to welcome American Eagle Credit Union to Creve Coeur. Charlie Waalkes, American Eagle President, presented fellow Chamber member, Lisa Maurer of Potentials Resale & Consignment Boutique, with a $500 check. Mary Barry, Branch Manager, may be reached at 314-720-7200.

CONVERSATION SERIES At Donald Danforth Plant Science Center

The Donald Danforth Plant Science Center will host its quarterly "Conversations" Series on Tuesday, May 17, 2011 from 5:15 – 7:00 p.m. The focus will be on the battle of malnutrition around the world. It will be held at the Donald Danforth Plant Science Center, 975 N. Warson Road. The event is sponsored by Boeing. The program will feature Dr. Mark Manary, Director, Global Harvest Alliance; Helene B. Roberson; Professor of Pediatrics, Washington University School of Medicine and Hannah Hightower, Student, Visitation Academy, Class of 2012, who will discuss their personal experiences on the front lines in sub-Saharan Africa.

Thanks to modern agricultural practices, much of the world no longer has to worry about where they will find their next meal. Basic life necessities - including adequate calories, vitamins and minerals - are readily available to nearly all those fortunate enough to live in developed countries. Yet even today, approximately one person in six is undernourished around the world. Children in developing countries are particularly vulnerable to malnutrition - and those who manage to survive are often irreversibly physically and mentally stunted.

Reservations are required but complimentary; seating is limited and priority will be given to Center Friends. To attend, please phone: 314-587-1070 or email: conversations@danforthcenter.org or reserve online.

Speaker: Alicia Busse

Topic: Leadership – What impact are you making on those in your sphere of influence?

Anyone who is in a leadership position has a degree of influence over their fellow colleagues, students, staff and numerous others. Often times a person in a leadership role becomes a role model/mentor (whether formally or informally) for those in their sphere of influence. It's important to take a step back and assess the type of impact you as a leader are making on those around you whether it be at home, work or school. Leaders are often exposed to many people and their actions are visible to a broad range of individuals. As a leader, it's important to recognize that there are others who are watching how you handle situations, solve problems and interact with others. How do you measure up and what type of impact are you making on those who are looking to you to set a correct example in your leadership, character and relationships?

Alicia is the Compensation Manager for Smurfit-Stone Container Corporation headquartered in Creve Coeur, Missouri. Alicia earned her MBA from The University of Missouri- Columbia and her BA in Business Administration from Truman State University. She was recently honored as one of St. Louis's 30 Under 30 – Class of 2010. Alicia is on the Executive Board for Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) of St. Louis, involved with The Compensation and Benefits Network of Greater St. Louis Steering Committee, teaches Junior Achievement and serves on the United Way's Women's Leadership Cabinet.
