12031 Lackland Road, Maryland Heights
314-576-0400

Speaker: Janet Wilding
Topic: 39 North - The future of AgTech

39 North is a 575-acre district that aims to foster opportunities for economic growth and reinforce Creve Coeur as a global hub for plant science and technology innovation. 39 North refers to the 39 parallel where St. Louis sits on the globe as does most of the productive agricultural land worldwide. The new district encompasses the Danforth Plant Science Center, Monsanto, The Helix Center and BRDG Park. The district is envisioned as an active, inspiring and utterly unique place where the world's brightest minds in food, water, energy and the environment converge, collide and collaborate to solve our biggest challenges and advance the human condition. The first three priorities of the plan are: the redesign of the Olive/Lindbergh interchange, the redesign of Old Olive Blvd. and establishment of a greenway corridor that will connect Stacy Park to the Centennial Greenway.

Janet Wilding, Vice President of Major Projects at the St. Louis Economic Development Partnership, is leading the master planning of 39 North.
